Hon. Herbert D. Beck,
Belle Glade, Florida.

Dear Herb:

I've been reading the election returns this morning. The best that I can gather from them is that you are IT and I am a country newspaper editor. It was a dandy battle though and I hope you enjoyed it as much as I did.

I've had a lot of fun adding up the returns from different precincts and figuring out what might have happened here and what might have happened there. In adding up all of the precincts outside of West Palm Beach and Palm Beach I find that I garnered 104 more votes than you did. But, did you tear me down in the City of West Palm Beach and Palm Beach. When Precinct No. 5 (Northwood) came in and you carried it by a majority of 199 I was just about ready to concede your election.

Say Herb, where in the dickens were you Tuesday night? I sat out in front of the Post Times building and listened to the returns. You must have been around there somewhere. I wanted to congratulate you after the returns were in but I didn't see you. Anyway, I guess you got my telegram Wednesday morning. It served the purpose.

From this tabulation here in front of me it looks like you gathered in 5,811 votes while I carried on the short end of the horn with only 5,137. I honestly thought there would be more votes cast in this particular race. As you remember there were 10,002 cast in our race two years ago. Well, maybe a lot of the folks were so interested in the senatorial race that they forgot to insert a "X" opposite our names.

It's interesting to look over the returns and see how the voters change their minds in different precincts in a few short months. For instance, in Boca Raton, two years ago I carried it 81 to 15 and at this time it was credited to you by a count of 58 to 39. Then at Brown's Farm my strength increased. I remember quite well two years ago that you carried it 6 to 1. This time I got six votes there while you tallied 18.

There are two precincts in Palm Beach county where our popularity stands at a tie. Did you notice the returns from Precinct 7 in West Palm Beach. Each of us received 101 votes there. And again in Precinct 22 in Lake Worth each of us tallied 208 votes. I guess you'd call that running up and tuck.

I've always thought that you were a pretty nice sort of a chap and had always believed that I wasn't such a bad sort myself—that is until this campaign got started in earnest about two or three weeks before election. Ain't it peculiar what takes leg? Anyway, the election is over, the votes have been counted and you're going to occupy that seat I warned for 60 days in Tallahassee and I'm wishing you a lot of luck.

I say I'm wishing you a lot of luck because I've been there and I know you'll need a lot of luck. About the time that a flock of followers called you and urge you to vote for a bill to save the state and in a few minutes another bunch called you and urge you to vote against the very same bill, you're going to find out that no matter how you vote you're going to wish that you had a rabbit's foot or a lucky piece of some kind to pull you through with a white shirt. But, take my advice—weigh the importance of each bill and let your conscience be your guide. You'll find out that no matter how you vote you're going to step on somebody's toes. And from the way some of them will yell you'll think they've got the point.

Herb, I'll be seeing you and I want you to remember that I'm behind you for a bigger and better Lake Okechobee region and Palm Beach county. Yeh, before I sign off, remember also that I'm still in the printing business and in the future, as in the past, our office gives instant service and quality work.

Sincerely,

PAUL RADIN.

P. S.—I've decided I won't make the race for speaker of the House in 1939.

Wildcat Comes Out of Glades To Attack Workman On Road 26 Below South Bay

Have you ever had a wildcat jump your back? If you haven't and want some first hand information on the feeling that comes over you when it happens, we suggest that you get in touch with George Williamson, an employee of the Aucter Construction company at South Bay and he can tell you all about it.

The story goes that on Tuesday night George was busy attending to his duties as an oiler on a dragline on Road 26 south of South Bay when the wildcat attacked him. George had left the machine and was picking up a chain several feet from the dragline when the cat jumped right smack dab on the middle of his back.

The workman made an earnest effort to shake the cat loose and during the melee that followed the cat sank his teeth into George's arm—leaving a nasty gash.

A few Indian war whoops by the assistant from fellow workmen but the cat was gone before the other fellows could get their hands on him. J. G. Weeks, state road inspector on the job, rushed down Road 26 to secure a first aid kit with which to dress the attacked man's arm.

P. T. A., Church, School and Social Notes Of Interest From South Bay Community

Minnie Mae Heister, daughter of Mrs. Mable Heister, was critically injured last week when she was accidentally pushed into an open fire in the yard by a playmate. A fragment of an old burning tire came in contact with the child's legs and feet causing deep burns. Mrs. Allen rescued her from the fire and notified his mother, who took the child to the doctor for immediate treatment. In spite of constant care, she still remains in a critical condition.

Rev. A. B. Beck, pastor of the Community church for the last four years, coming here from Colorado Springs, Colo., has been transferred to the pastorate at Davie. For the present, however, he will continue to serve South Bay and the Methodist church at Canal Point, preaching here at 3:30 a. m. and at the Canal Point church at 11 o'clock and again in the evening until arrangements can be made to locate a permanent pastor for these two churches. Sunday school will convene at 1:30 until further notice.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected at Sunday school last Sunday. Mrs. H. C. Willis was re-elected superintendent. J. C. Cowen, assistant superintendent, and E. Campbell chorister and Miss Edith Ayl, assistant, Carl Barlow secretary, Mrs. Edith VanLandingham, pianist, Betty Rawie, Librarian, Helen Seaman, assistant Teachers, adult and young men's Bible class, Mrs. G. J. Barstow, young women's Bible class, Mrs. W. H. Rawie, Sunshine class, Mrs. J. S. Ayl, primary class, and Mrs. C. E. Forbes.

A group of the younger set was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ned Koocher at a garden party Tuesday evening. The early part of the evening was taken up in playing cards and games, and was followed by recreational games and light refreshments. Guests included Mrs. Grace Denton, Jane Ann Alvarez, Norma McCurdy, Louise, Quinlan and Dorothy Walker, Nina Kelly, Emma and Ruth Ellison, Evelyn McClellan, Mary Gordon Smith, and Margaret Hayes.

Quida Russian was the guest of honor at a party in honor of her 7th birthday on her home lawn Thursday afternoon. Her mother, Mrs. Morris Russian, entertained a group of little folks. Lawn games were played after which ice cream cake and candy were served. Guests attending were Helen Seaman, Robert Smith, Ralph and Howell Goodfriend, Carl Ruth and Don Barstow, Morris and Vileta Russian, Lala and Naomi Fisher, Lenzie, LaVerne and Myrna Lockmiller.

J. R. Beckenbach, associate truck horticulturist of the University of Florida Experiment station, and Robert Gill of the Heister Supply company of Miami, were inspecting tomato fields in the Lake Harbor vicinity Thursday. While the quality of the upper Florida glades tomatoes is the finest in years, a puffiness has been discovered in some fields. Growers and experts in the effort to improve the quality of their product, are making a survey to try to discover the cause and work out a remedy. At present it is not known whether it is due to soil conditions, lack of a resistant seed type and amount of fertilizer or some other condition. Samples of soil are being taken, kinds of fertilizer investigated, and other conditions scrutinized. It is hoped to either secure a resistant seed or develop some mixture of fertilizer or discover a spray by means of which this fault may be overcome.

Friends here have received word of the accidental drowning of Bobby Jackson, 17-year-old son of Gordon Jackson, formerly of South Bay, now of Iron Mountain, Mich. in the river near his home. The young man was walking along the bank of the river with friends when he stumbled and fell into the river. Since he was an excellent swimmer, it is thought he was struck on the head by some submerged object and rendered unconscious. The body has not been recovered to date although every effort has been made to do so.

Polly Grant, president, presided over the business session of the Lake Harbor Christian Endeavor Sunday evening. Mary Merriam was in charge of the Benediction on the topic, "Jobs in a Changing World." Edna Henderson, Catherine McKay and Muriel Morrison also took part. Others attending were Mrs. C. M. Larrick, Miss Bill Seiglin, Mrs. H. B. Merriam, Mrs. J. D. Hemphill, Verne Henderson, Floy Prevatt, Dan Beardsley, Virginia Larrick, Eva Mae Moore, Jane Grant, Ralph and Myra Bishop and several visitors.

Mrs. J. S. Ayl, president of the Parent-Teachers association, conferred with her officers and chairmen of committees in executive session Monday afternoon at the Health Center to prepare arrangements for the final regular session of the year which will be conducted in the school auditorium on Monday, May 9, at 8 p. m. The installation of officers will be conducted. Each officer and committee chairman is requested to present a written report of the year's activities and accomplishments. The treasurer reported that sufficient funds were on hand from the barbecue supper and prize for the community booth at the Everglades Fair to create a library fund of $100, this amount to be matched dollar for dollar by the county board of education for the purchase of library books. Play all outstanding bills and leave a balance in the treasury. Others present were: Mrs. W. M. Jeffries, Mrs. G. H. Brown, Mrs. G. J. Barstow and Mrs. W. R. Schirbeck.

The annual county achievement exhibit and Junior Council of the Women's Home Demonstration club, Saturday was attended by Mrs. E. M. VanLandingham, Mrs. W. H. Rawie, local 4-H club leaders and 20 members of the Junior and Senior high clubs. Demonstrations were presented by June Goodfriend, Edith Ayl, Betty Rawie of the Senior high group, Ruth Barstow, Mary Grace Denton, Norma McCurdy and Thelma Ayl of the Junior group. The Senior high song leader, Edith Ayl, also entered her original song in the county song contest. Local numbers had entries in canning and food conservation, baking, flowers, sewing and fancy work, winning a number of prizes which will be announced at their regular session Thursday. Others making the trip were: Elsie Mae Willis, Quinlan Walker, Margaret Hayes, Jessie and Katherine McLeod, Marguerite and Lucille Barnes, Barbara Brown, Agnes Robertson, Mrs. G. J. Barstow, Bobby VanLandingham.

Mrs. G. H. Brown was hostess to members of the W. M. U. of the Baptist church at her home last week. Mrs. W. W. McCurdy was in charge of the missionary program on Africa. Light refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Miss Gwendolyn Brown, at the close of the program. Others attending were: Mrs. R. Williams, Mrs. C. O. Alvarez, Mrs. D. D. Hawkins, Mrs. Berline Walker, Mrs. C. J. Brown and Mrs. Maude Martine.

Wildlife League Will Meet Tonight

Delegations from several Everglades towns and communities will attend a meeting in West Palm Beach Friday night of the Wildlife League of Palm Beach county, when local units for these and other towns in the county will be formed. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock at the Palm Beach Yacht club and everyone in the community interested in wildlife conservation has been urged to attend. Officials stressed that individual invitations are not necessary. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss pest extermination and conservation campaigns will be planned. Prefacing this campaign was the activity, on his own initiative, of Conservation Officer D. M. McPhail last week in the destruction of more than 1,000 pounds of mudfish and garfish in Big Mould canal, one of the county's most popular bass fishing streams. The predatory fish were invading Big Mould after being driven from the polluted waters of West Palm Beach canal. Under the personal supervision of Officer McPhail, three days of netting was required. This was done by H. Robinson and two sons, commercial fishermen of Oklawaha county. They were permitted to keep the catfish also trapped in the seines.

As an example of how effective playground facilities are in preventing crime, Director Neal Higgins of the recreation department of Tampa quoted juvenile court figures showing a 40 per cent reduction in delinquency in Youth City during the first year since construction. Park was established as a WPA project.

Governor Lehman of New York booked a big tigon off Big Game last week and while he was hunting him, a hammerhead shark came along and swallowed the tigon. However, the tigon Governor Lehman landed a 100-pound tigon, the biggest caught in the Gulf of Mexico this season, and now all is serene in the tigon camp.

Breath-Taking Realism Marks Man-Made Cinema Hurricane

A man-made fury of wind and waves, the storm that gives Samuel Goldwyn's South Sea Island drama "The Hurricane" which comes to the Belle Glade theatre on Sunday and Monday, its name, was filled with awe-inspiring realism.

No punches were pulled, no feelings spared as players and technicians took a heading almost equal to that dealt out to the South Sea Island village, which Goldwyn spent a fortune to build and another fortune to demolish.

The storm was filmed piece by piece. By the time it was ended, one of the most complete and beautiful settings of the Hollywood was a shambles and Dorothy Lamour, Jon Hall, Mary Astor, and C. Aubrey Smith were nervously nervous.

The hurricane is leveling one of its furious blasts as we watch it in action. Nine huge wind machines are placed in strategic positions along the village shore of the setting's acre-and-a-half island.

Four of these gale manufacturers are 12 cylinder Liberty motors with giant three bladed propellers. Five are airplane motors, with propellers reversed to aid the air surging outward instead of sucking inward. Each is capable of lashing out a 90-mile-an-hour gale.

An intricate network of some 30 firehose are hooked to powerful pumps. Director John Ford calls to Chief, the native technical aid, to tell him to line up his people in front of the village trading post. Jon Hall and Dorothy Lamour take their places with the potential victims.

Ford calls a command and the mechanics start their motors. An alarm from Ford and smoke, some of it black, part of it tinged yellow, starts rising in a cloud from invisible sources behind the set. The movie has hit its stride. The hurricane is in full rampage.

Smoke, whipped and beaten until it looks like driven, shredded cloud, mingling with blinding showers of spray, as firehoses, uplashed in down angles, loose their blasts at intervals to be caught by the whipping wind.

Arms shielding faces, bodies bent forward, the natives start running into the teeth of the gale. Hall has no such protection. He has arms full, half carrying, half pulling, Miss Lamour along.

The mat sides of a hut are torn loose by the gale, as swirling through the group of struggling players. Debris of all sorts spins like tumbleweeds caught in a prairie tornado.

On-ground littered with leaves, palm fronds and mats, Miss Lamour, Hall and the natives stand rubbing their streaming faces and bodies with towels.

"That was swell for the long shot, kids," says Director Ford. "Now we'll do the closeup."

"The Hurricane" is released through United Artists.

The "Bulletin" issued by New York World's Fair contains a beautiful picture of the Court of States in which Florida's building, designed by Paul Stewart occupies a prominent position.

The first Carillon recital at Mountain Lake Sanctuary for the next winter season will be played on December 15, 1933, and will be conducted by Mrs. Helene Drapton, Worthing Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star.
